Rheinmetall Air Defence and Global Aerospace Logistics: Close cooperation for Air Defence Systems in the UAE

Global Aerospace Logistics (GAL) has extended the cooperation agreement with Rheinmetall subsidiary Rheinmetall Air Defence, Zürich, Switzerland one of the world's foremost makers of advanced air defence systems. This agreement will provide GAL's UAE defence customers with quicker access to spare parts, training and valued technical support.

"We are pleased to have this enhanced relationship with Rheinmetall Air Defence in the UAE" said Brig. Gen. (R) Dr. Hassan Yousuf Mohammed, Chief Executive Officer, Global Aerospace Logistics. "As an important defence OEM to the UAE, Rheinmetall Air Defence is renowned for providing fully mission capable air defence systems. Through our proximity and strong connection with the UAE Armed Forces, we can meet the follow-on support requirements of the UAE Air Force and Air Defence and this cooperation agreement represents an important step."

"This agreement represents a positive development for Rheinmetall Air Defence to improve our ability to provide all required logistic support to our end user customers in the UAE, and reinforces our strong commitment to the UAE Air Force and Air Defence and their national defence security requirements" said Kai Uwe Sautter, President Marketing and Sales, Rheinmetall Air Defence. "Working with a strong, highly qualified and professional local Partner GAL, will undoubtedly improve our ability to fully support our UAE Armed Forces."
